

Stenvig and Wickstrom honored for excellence

The LAnse Education Association presented Helen Stenvig and Marianne Wickstrom awards naming them the "Teacher and Community Person" who made a difference in the LAnse Area Schools this year. They were honored at the "Celebration of Excellence" at the Ramada Inn in Hancock on May 20, 2010.

Stenvig, fifth grade science teacher at C.J.Sullivan Elementary School, was recognized for her extra efforts involved with the Lake Superior Stewardship Initiative and helping to create the nature trail. She is an advocate for hands-on science and was instrumental in establishing a book club open to staff and community members which promoted the importance of outdoor experience to children.

Wickstrom is an active parent and member of the C.J. Sullivan Elementary PTO. She was recognized for her extra efforts and countless hours spent to compile the school yearbook.

Wickstrom coordinated candid and class shots to make the yearbook the exceptional one it turned out to be. Other schools from the Copper Country Education Association awarded community, support personnel and staff members at the annual "Celebration of Excellence".
